7.1.1: Institution has initiated the Gender Audit and measures for the promotion of gender equity during the last five years. The gender equity & sensitization in curricular and co-curricular activities, facilities for women on campus etc.

As seen by the introduction of certain classes, the institution has included a number of initiatives in to the curriculum in order to promote gender equality and awareness. An educational program known as "Gender Sensitization" is offered by the Department. The objective of this course is to acquaint students with more equitable interactions between boys and females, as well as to give information on significant biological components of gender.

As part of its efforts to raise awareness about gender issues, the university hosts extracurricular activities such as workshops, seminars, guest lectures, street performances, poster displays, counseling, and other educational activities. A "self-defense training" program was implemented by the institution exclusively for the female students who were enrolled there. The safety and security of female students and staff members is protected via the implementation of awareness programs on a periodic basis. In the context of these efforts, problems such as the relevance of human rights, the rights of women in domestic situations, and cyber security are the focal points of attention.

The following committees were established by the institution in accordance with the guidelines established by the university institution grievance committee: anti-ragging committee, students' disciplinary committee, women empowerment committee, SC/ST students' welfare committee, and mentoring program. In addition to the detailed explanation of the committees' activities that can be found on the institution's website, students are also provided with additional information about these committees during orientation and induction events.

The university provides its personnel and students with safety and security measures, such as CCTV surveillance that covers the whole campus and security specialists who monitor the campus around the clock. For the purpose of fostering the intellectual, emotional, social, and academic development of its students, the institution provides facilities such as a specialist counseling center and a mentoring program that is extremely effective. Students get specialized instruction.

This involves providing direction and assistance on several levels. Located in different buildings, there are amenities that are specifically designed for men and women. In order to guarantee your safety, toilets are outfitted with vending machines that provide sanitary napkins. In addition, the institution has boy's and girl's common areas that are distinct from one another and are well decorated.

By commemorating national holidays and the births of notable Indian figures on an annual basis, the educational establishment strives to develop a sense of patriotism and idealism in its students. Field excursions, essay writing, public speaking, and flag hoisting are some of the events that are included in the festivities. Other activities include project exhibits, poster presentations, and field trips. When these events take place, it is customary to invite notable personalities to provide motivational speeches to both the faculty and the students.

The Institution observes a number of national and international holidays on a yearly basis, including International Yoga Day, Teachers Day, Pharmacists Day, Woman's Day, Independence Day, Gandhi Jayanthi, and Republic Day.
